POTTER SEEKS TO DRIVE OUT CROKER.

Bishop's Plan Is to Overthrow Tammany in the Next Election.

Bishop Potter will not recognize the Tammany Vice Committee of Five. His plan is to rid the city of protected vice by overthrowing Croker and Tammany.

A series of indignation meetings will be held to arouse public sentiment against the condition of which the Bishop complains. These meetings will be held all over the city, and will be the first step in the campaign against Tammany.

Bishop Potter will not honor Mr. Nixon's letter with a reply. If the Tammany committee decides to call upon him in person for the purpose of urging his appearance before them it is doubtful if he will even receive them.

A Rebuke to Tammany.

Bishop Potter's complete ignoring of the committee is part of a studied plan. He intends that his negative action shall be a rebuke to Tammany. It means that when the Episcopal Bishop of New York threw down the gauntlet in a struggle for the maintenance of public morality, he considered his principal opponents not the east side dive keepers, but Tammany. To appear before his committee could be construed only as making a compromise with the enemy, which Bishop Potter has no idea of doing.

Ever since Mr. Croker's announcement that New York needs to be reformed Bishop Potter has been perfecting arrangements for a series of addresses by vice-crusade leaders at public meetings.

All the meetings will be more or less under church auspices. In them the elements of politics and religious denunciation of the Parkhurst kind will be absolutely eliminated. They will be plain presentations of existing east side conditions, and appeals to the moral sentiment of New York for their correction.

Such the Benefactors' day so revives at the Pro-Cathedral promise to be on next Thursday afternoon and Friday litany service at St. Paul's Chapel.

"No review of our work in this mission field will be either fruitful or complete without a thorough consideration of our struggle with the Tammany fostered vice around us," said Dr. Paddock to-day.

WOMEN FACE STERN JUDGE.

Magistrate Crane Promises Raid Prisoners Six Months of Imprisonment.

Essex Market Court was crowded to the doors to-day and beyond into the street. The attraction was the result of Capt. Titus' raid last night on the alleged evil resort at 24 Stanton street. The defendants were Fannie Brown, who is the alleged proprietress of the place, and ten other women and girls.

Magistrate Crane presided. Lawyer Maurice A. Gottlieb appeared for the eleven women. Capt. Titus was near the Magistrate and was on the alert for every move.

The raid was made upon the complaint of Annie Wilner, of 318 East Third Street. She swore that she was for weeks an inmate of the place and left it only last Monday. She went to her home a physical wreck. She had previously told her mother a story of employment in a department store. When she was practically driven from the place she revealed the truth.

Lawyer Gottlieb began the night. He moved for the dismissal of all the charges on the grounds that testimony from a woman confessing to having lied in a witness box was not admissible as corroboration. He cited the case of Inspector Cross, who was indicted after the Lexow investigation upon the testimony of an immoral woman. The court motion that such testimony alone would be preferred.

Magistrate Crane promptly denied the motion. Capt. Titus spoke up and said that the story given by Annie Wilner was ample corroboration of the charges made by Annie Wilner. He said he would furnish proof of the immoral

GRAND JURY TO GET ALVORD.

Commissioner Shields Holds the Accused Bank Teller.

Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., accused of embezzling $60,000, was held this morning to await the action of the Grand Jury by United States Commissioner Shields.

It is understood that Alvord will be indicted immediately and his case will be put on the calendar for the term beginning the second Wednesday in December.

ALLIES TAKE TWO PASSES.

Chinese Show Resistance at Chilai and Shau-Si.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—A Chinese official report says the Shanghai correspondent of the Standard, "that the allies have captured two passes leading from Chilai into Shan-Si."

The body was hastily removed by friends to an undertaker's establishment on Fourth avenue, Manhattan. But yesterday Coronel Burges got a hint that the death was mysterious, and he investigated with the result that the body was ordered back to Brooklyn and the Coronel's physician was sternly directed to perform an autopsy.

Dr. Hartung, Coronel's physician, reported to Coronel Burges that Edey's death was a natural one, due to apoplexy.

The body was hastily removed by friends to an undertaker's establishment on Fourth avenue, Manhattan. But yesterday Coronel Burges got a hint that the death was mysterious, and he investigated with the result that the body was ordered back to Brooklyn and the Coronel's physician was sternly directed to perform an autopsy.

Dr. Hartung found a wound piercing the heart. It was a bullet wound, though larger than if it had been made with a darning needle.

Then the pathologist recalled that a rifle stood in Edey's room when he visited Mr. Seymour's home in his official capacity. This rifle was sent for. It is a piece of foreign make and 22-calibre.

Mr. Seymour's son, Edward, his heir, boarder at 41 Clark Street, afternoon boy, son of his couch dead. She called in Dr. Langstaff, of 19th Avenue, who said Edey was beyond human aid.

The charges made by Bishop Potter were prepared to meet the charge of a salaried agent of the Board of Education.

Inspector Cross, who was indicted after the Lexow investigation upon the testimony of an immoral woman. The court motion that such testimony alone would be preferred.

Magistrate Crane promptly denied the motion. Capt. Titus spoke up and said that the argument between the two was ample corroboration of the charges made by Annie Wilner. He said he would furnish proof of the immoral

LEAPED FROM FERRY-BOAT.

Man Jumped Into the East River and Was Hit by Paddlewheel.

A man having the appearance of a German about 40 years old leaped from the ferry-boat Bowery Bay late last night and was drowned.

He boarded the boat at Astoria.

When half way across the East River the man rushed from the cabin and jumped over the bow. The engines were stopped and a search made, but no trace of the man was found.

It was thought he was struck by the paddle.

He was a passenger on the boat.
